DO THEY REALLY WORK? 12 BEAUTY PRODUCTS PUT TO THE TEST

The Next COCO H₂O

The era of watermelon water is upon us: Mixologists are even using it in drinks (“Mellini, anyone?”). The juice, which has the same sugar content (12 g per serving) as coconut water, is also a smart post-workout choice for an electrolyte boost. Plus, the ground-up rind contains amino acids for building muscles.

Rare Bird

Inspired by the pheasants near his country home on the White Cliffs of Dover, London jewelry designer Stephen Webster, known for his edgy yet elegant pieces, replicated the fowl's pretty plumes using a mix of 128 gemstones—rhodolite, amethyst, blue topaz, citrine, iolite, peridot, and red garnet—for this rainbow collar. These kinds of kaleidoscopic designs may be bold, but don't shy away, says Webster, whose rock-star following includes Jennifer Lopez and Pink. “Wear it with a dress in any one of the colors and you'll be impossible to ignore,” he says.

18kt white gold set with marquise-cut stones and pavé black diamonds, $90,000; at Neiman Marcus.

It's convertible: The red garnet and black diamond-covered tail detaches so you can wear it as a pendant.

GO BEYOND #TBT HASHTAG YOUR WEEK

Thursday is fun for throwing it back (keep the baby pics coming!), but these celebrities prove the other six days of the week are just as Instagrammable. Score ideas for tagging your posts with this mini cal.
